The Philadelphia Show Announces 2020 Dates

(Philadelphia) December 2019 — The Philadelphia Show is delighted to announce the dates for its 58th edition showcasing America's preeminent dealers of antiques and fine art from the colonial to the contemporary. The 2020 Show will be held from Friday, April 24 through Sunday, April 26 at Philadelphia's historic Navy Yard, where visitors will shop a dynamic selection of jewelry, decorative arts, design and fine art. The Preview Party (Thursday, April 23) gives guests the first-chance to experience the Show before it opens to the public. The new website will be live on December 18 with ticketing to follow. Proceeds from the Show benefit the Philadelphia Museum of Art's educational programs.

The Philadelphia Show supports a community of connoisseurship among specialists, nascent collectors, and seasoned collectors alike. Announcements of new and noteworthy offerings from participating exhibitors will follow, along with information about programming and partnerships and details of the inspiring loan exhibition All Creatures Great and Small.
